

2014

General Elections Report

INTRODUCTION

The Independent Electoral Commission (IEC) was established by Section 65A of the Constitution of Botswana in 1997. The Commission comprises seven (7) members headed by a Chairperson, who shall be a Judge of the High Court, and assisted by a Deputy Chairperson, who shall be a Legal Practitioner. The two are appointed directly by the Judicial Service Commission (JSC). The JSC also appoints five other members from a list of persons recommended by the All-Party Conference.

- ✓ To conduct and supervise elections of members of the National Assembly and Local Authorities;
- ✓ To conduct referenda;
- ✓ To ensure that elections are conducted efficiently, properly, freely and fairly;
- ✓ To give instructions and directions to the Secretary to the Commission with regard to their responsibilities under the Constitution and Electoral Laws generally;
- ✓ To perform such other functions as may be prescribed by an Act of Parliament.

The IEC also conducts public awareness on its processes to maximise participation in electoral processes. For the successful undertaking of this responsibility it is, therefore, indispensable for IEC to facilitate the promotion of informed active participation in electoral processes by political parties, civil society organisations, the media and the citizenry in its entirety.

The experiences, lessons, challenges and recommendations from the stakeholder evaluation workshops for the 2009 General Elections significantly contributed towards the preparation of a strategic plan for the IEC aimed at improving service delivery in conducting the 2014 General Elections. One of the significant developments during the period leading to the 2014 General Elections was the successful motivation of the improvement of the legal framework which was enacted through the Electoral (Amendment) Act, No. 20 of 2012. The amendment provided that names in the voters roll be arranged according to the alphabetical order of their surnames.

The Commission also introduced two administrative initiatives aimed at taking the youth on board regarding electoral processes. These were Democracy Youth Clubs (DYC) which targeted secondary schools going youth and the Youth Ambassadors (YA) programme which focused on the out of school youth. These initiatives have had a positive impact on the 2014 General Elections. Of all the registered voters for the 2014 General Elections, 47% were the youth compared to 31% of youth who registered for the 2009 General Elections.

Furthermore, rigorous sensitisation on electoral processes was extended to various key stakeholders including Politicians, Faith Sector, Public Officers, Visually Impaired, Students, Civil Society Organisations, Media personnel and the electorate at large. This sensitisation was done through countrywide meetings, workshops, print, electronic and social media.

Other initiatives that enhanced service delivery during the 2014 General Elections included:

- Development of Braille instructions for the Braille literate to read for themselves so as to enhance the privacy of vote casting.
- Introduction of Helpdesk at each polling station to assist voters with reporting to the rightful polling station as well as the validity and authenticity of the National Identity (Omang) and Voter Registration Cards.
- Use of Tally Sheets to facilitate speedy counting of ballots cast.

In an effort to increase organisational capacity, the Commission increased its human resource from One Hundred and Fifty Six (156) in 2009 to One Hundred and Seventy Three (173) in 2014 within the Office of the Secretary to scale up delivery of electoral services.

A total of forty-six (46) IEC officials underwent a rigorous professional training on “Management of Democratic Elections in Africa” (MDEA) offered by the University of South Africa, to enhance their performance.

All these initiatives have had a great impact in ensuring that the 2014 General Elections were conducted in a credible, efficient, proper, free and fair manner.

STRATEGY

The IEC considers the strategic plan a management tool from which key decisions on the Commission’s activities flow. The Commission has adopted the electoral cycle, which is the main guiding tool for the sequential execution of the electoral processes and so informs the planning process.

In 2010 after the conclusion of the last electoral cycle, that is, after the 2009 General Elections, a five (5) year Strategic Plan (2010-2015) was developed. The plan was to provide a strategic direction in the implementation of the activities that drive the electoral processes in the next plan period. It represented key aspirations and deliberate intentions of the IEC in enhancing the conduct of credible elections.

The development of the Strategic Plan took into consideration inputs from various reports: the 2009 General Elections, performance audit, election observers (local and international), and other key stakeholder evaluation exercises and the Commission’s decisions. In addition, a comprehensive environmental scanning exercise was also conducted through the SWOT (strengths, weaknesses, opportunities, threats) analysis, which assisted in establishing the internal and external drivers of the Commission’s performance at the time. Critical attention was paid to the aspirations of the National Vision 2016 and the National Development Plan 10 during the planning process. It was from all these that strategic foundations being the Vision, Mission and Values were refined. These gave a clear direction of the key areas that the Commission needed to focus on going forward.

Three strategic themes which informed the whole planning process were then coined as follows:

- i) Open and democratic electoral processes
- ii) Operational excellence and
- iii) Technology driven electoral processes and support services.

The Strategic Plan 2010 - 2015 greatly helped the Commission to achieve credible 2014 General Elections. As depicted in the plan, it focused the energy and time of everyone in the Commission towards achieving its mandate. It also gave direction on resource allocation, capacity building and training of staff, staff welfare and continuous monitoring of the plan.

To operationalize the Strategic Plan, a Gantt Chart/election timetable was developed from the electoral cycle. Strategies were deconstructed into sequential activities and attached to timelines.

The document kept the Commission on track by providing a visual timeline from the start to finish of specific activities and was updated periodically starting in 2011 when the Housing and Population Census commenced until 2014 when the General Elections were delivered.

ELECTORAL BOUNDARIES

Following the Population and Housing Census of 2011, the report gave a defacto population of Two Million and Twenty Four Thousand Nine Hundred and Four (2 024 904). This was followed by the appointment of the Delimitation Commission in 2012, to review the boundaries of the existing constituencies in accordance with Sections 63, 64 and 65 of the Constitution of Botswana (Chapter 01). Although the total number of constituencies did not increase from the previous delimitation exercise of 2002, the boundaries changed significantly due to the growth and other dynamics in the population of Botswana. The exercise also led to some constituencies being renamed.

The delimitation exercise was followed by the establishment of polling districts in each constituency for the purpose of Local Government elections, in accordance with Section 5 of the Electoral Act, which states -

“As soon as practicable after constituencies have been delimited, the Secretary shall divide each constituency into polling districts and establish one or more polling stations in each polling district...”

Upon completion of the demarcation exercise, the number of polling districts remained the same, at Four Hundred and Ninety (490) as in 2002. The boundaries and names of the polling districts changed quite significantly, and the number of established polling stations therein increased from Two Thousand Two Hundred and Eighty Eight (2 288) to Two Thousand Six Hundred and Six (2 606) locally. The Commission also established thirty-eight (38) polling stations in other countries in terms of Section 5 (3) of the Electoral Act.

From the month of August 2013, the Commission embarked on an education drive, to publicize the new electoral district boundaries, polling stations and their names ahead of the general voter registration. The same were publicised in the Government Gazette.

PUBLIC AWARENESS

Public awareness has been provided by the IEC at regional and national level in order to sensitise the electorate on democracy and electoral matters to enhance participation and cultivate democratic values. The IEC segmented stakeholder groups in order to provide targeted information in the form of Women, Youth, People Living With Disabilities, the Faith Sector, Political Parties, Media, and the non-literate as some of the critical stakeholder groups.

Youth were a key target as premised on its large constituency that stands at about 62% of the population. The formation of Democracy Youth Clubs in schools and identifying out of school youth as Youth Ambassadors has assisted in disseminating information to the youth on civic engagement, democracy and electoral matters. Six (6) regional workshops and two national youth workshops were also held in 2010 and 2011 as part of capacity building endeavour. In 2013 and 2014, the IEC commemorated the International Day of Democracy.

Debate competitions were held for the Democracy Youth Clubs in five (5) regions to allow students to debate the importance and meaning of Democracy in a bid to inculcate the spirit of democracy at an early stage. Capacity building for the youth and women's groups was also provided. These interventions would not have been possible without assistance from our key strategic partners to whom the IEC remains indebted.

Sensitisation on democracy and electoral matters was also provided to government Ministries and Departments. The IEC also collaborated with schools on provision of sensitisation programmes on democracy, civic responsibility and elections.

VOTER REGISTRATION

Botswana uses a periodic voters roll which stays in force for a period of five (5) years. The roll is compiled and updated continuously and used to run the general elections and any subsequent by-elections of the National Assembly, Local Government, and any Referendum that may become necessary.

In preparation for the 2014 General Elections, the Commission conducted three voter registration exercises, locally and externally, as follows:

1. General voter registration from 4th to 27th October 2013,
2. First supplementary voter registration from 21st February to 2nd March 2014 and
3. Second supplementary voter registration from 1st to 18th May 2014.

To facilitate such registration exercises, the Secretary to the Commission appointed Principal Registration Officers and Registration Officers in accordance with Section 4 of the Electoral Act. Botswana diplomatic staff were engaged to conduct registration at the external polling stations. All Registration Officers and their Supervisors were trained on registration procedures as prescribed by the electoral law.

According to the figures from Statistics Botswana, the eligible voting population stood at One Million Three Hundred and Thirty Four Thousand and Twenty Three (1 334 023) and the Commission set itself a target of 80% of the total eligible voters. The IEC validly registered a total of Eight Hundred and Twenty Five Thousand Five Hundred and Eighty Two (825 582) voters (824 434 Local and 1 148 External) over three registration exercises which translates into 62% of the eligible population and 77% of the target the Commission had set itself.

Some polling stations, namely Qorotsha Tent, in the Ngami constituency and Rustenburg in South Africa did not register any voters.

PREPARATION OF ROLLS

At the end of every registration period, the voter registration record cards (Form A), were delivered for data capturing into the database at the IEC Head Office. The process involved the transcription of the data on the forms by the Optical Mark Reader (OMR) Scanners.

The voters rolls were published for public inspection for forty two (42) and twenty one (21) days in the case of a general roll and supplementary rolls respectively, during which period objections could be raised against the inclusion of any voter's names in the rolls of a particular polling district or constituency.

After the elapse of an inspection period for any of the three rolls, the rolls were certified. Registration transfers were effected on the rolls until Parliament was dissolved. Issuing of duplicate registration cards was also done until a day before polling day, in terms of Section 29 of the Electoral Act.

The three rolls for each constituency were amalgamated into an election roll on 12th September 2014. This process takes place immediately after the Writs of Election had been issued.

ELECTION OFFICIALS

In terms of Section 4 of the Electoral Act, a total of Five Hundred and Forty Seven (547) Returning Officers and Two Thousand One Hundred and Forty Six (2 146) Assistant Returning Officers were recruited and appointed for the fifty-seven (57) constituencies and four hundred and ninety (490) polling districts. A total of Five Thousand Two Hundred and Twelve (5 212) Presiding Officers and Ten Thousand Four Hundred and Twenty Four (10 424) Polling Officers were also recruited and appointed for the Two Thousand Six Hundred and Six (2 606) polling stations locally.

For the marking of the tally sheets at all the Five Hundred and Forty Seven (547) counting centres, Five Thousand Two Hundred and Sixty Five (5 265) Tallying Officers were recruited and appointed. For purposes of diaspora polling, thirty-seven (37) Presiding Officers and seventy-four (74) Polling Officers were also recruited and appointed. Altogether this made a total of Twenty Three Thousand Seven Hundred and Five (23 705) officers recruited for the 2014 General Elections. All the appointed officials went through training sessions to prepare them adequately for the conduct of elections.

In addition to the Electoral Act, Returning Officers were each issued with a pocket size simplified summary of the Sections relevant to their role, “Guide to Returning Officers in the Conduct of Elections”. Presiding and Polling Officers were on the other hand, each issued with a “Guide to Presiding and Polling Officers in the Conduct of Elections”. These guides provided quick and simplified reference to the Electoral Law, which they could easily carry around.

LOGISTICS

Election Materials

The general increase in the number of polling stations necessitated the procurement of additional equipment such as tents, polling booths and ballot boxes.

An additional Four Thousand (4 000) rechargeable battery operated fluorescent lanterns and One Thousand (1 000) gas cylinders and lamps were procured following the increase in polling stations without electricity.

Some generators were also sourced from other institutions for backup and Botswana Power Corporation alerted on the need to maintain the electricity supply throughout the country to facilitate elections, particularly the counting process after close of poll in the evening.

Transport

Transport was quite a challenge owing to the high number of vehicles needed, particularly on the eve of, and during, polling day. The Office of the Secretary had made transport requests to the Central Transport Organisation (CTO) and Local Authorities for over Six Thousand (6 000) vehicles. Although government departments had offered vehicles, some of them had mechanical faults, hence not were available for use. Where there was shortage, election officials were authorised to use their own motor vehicles and reimbursed accordingly. Alternative transport was arranged for places which were inaccessible by road.

The required transport was used for transportation of election materials and personnel from distribution points to all polling stations in the country and back.

Ballot Paper Printing Services

In collaboration with the Department of Printing and Publishing Services and through the Public Procurement and Asset Disposal Board (PPADB), the IEC procured the services of SAPPI Southern Africa Limited, a South African based company, to design and produce base stock to the specifications determined by the Commission.

The Commission further acquired the services of another South African company, Universal Print, for the printing of ballot papers. The printing of the ballot papers commenced after receipt of nominations of candidates on the 25th September 2014, since the ballot papers were area specific.

Distribution of Election Materials

Election materials were packaged and collected by the Returning Officers ahead of polling day. The materials were later handed over to the Presiding Officers for use at their assigned polling stations.

DISSOLUTION OF PARLIAMENT

His Excellency the President of the Republic of Botswana dissolved Parliament on 29th August 2014, creating fifty-seven (57) Parliamentary vacancies throughout the country and issued the Writs of Election for the fifty-seven (57) constituencies on the 10th September 2014 in accordance with Section 34 of the Electoral Act. He ordered that the nominations be received by the Returning Officers on the 25th September 2014 at the constituency headquarters of each constituency. He further directed that any poll that may become necessary be conducted on 24th October 2014.

In accordance with the Local Government Act, members of the different Councils remained in office until the last day before polling day. Despite that, in accordance with Section 154 of the Electoral Act, the Minister of Local Government and Rural Development issued Election Instruments for the Four Hundred and Ninety (490) polling districts, also directing that nominations and polling be conducted on 25th September, 2014 and 24th October 2014 respectively.

NOMINATIONS

Presidential

In compliance with Section 7(1) of the Presidential Elections (Supplementary Provisions) Act, the Secretary to the Commission appointed Authenticating Officers to authenticate support papers for the supporters of the Presidential Candidates. The Authenticating Officers appointed were senior police officers at the level of Officer Commanding and Station Commanders.

The Chief Justice, as the Returning Officer for Presidential Elections, received nominations from presidential aspirants on 20th September 2014, being the first Saturday after the elapse of twenty (20) days from dissolution of parliament. The nominations were received from 10:00 hours to 13:00 hours and from 14:30 hours to 17:00 hours at the High Court in Gaborone.

At the close of nominations, leaders of three political parties stood validly nominated for the office of President:

Mr Dumelang Saleshando	-	Botswana Congress Party
Lt. Gen. Seretse Khama Ian Khama	-	Botswana Democratic Party
Mr Duma Gideon Boko	-	Umbrella for Democratic Change

The presidential candidates also presented their symbols and voting colours to the Returning Officer.

Parliamentary and Local Government Nominations

The nominations for Parliamentary and Local Government elections were received on 25th September 2014, in terms of Section 35 of the Electoral Act, for all the fifty-seven (57) constituencies and Four Hundred and Ninety (490) polling districts.

The Parliamentary nominations results were as follows:

Table 1

PARTY	NUMBER OF SEATS CONTESTED
Botswana Congress Party	54
Botswana Democratic Party	57
Umbrella for Democratic Change	52
Independent Candidates	29
Total	192

The results for Local Government nominations were as follows:

Table 2

PARTY	NUMBER OF SEATS CONTESTED
Botswana Congress Party	429
Botswana Democratic Party	490
MELS Movement of Botswana	1
Umbrella for Democratic Change	432
Independent Candidates	254
Total	1606

At the close of nominations in the Dimajwe Polling District in the Serowe West constituency, only one (1) candidate, of the Botswana Democratic Party, stood nominated and was declared winner by the Returning Officer.

SECURITY

The security of the election materials, election officials and the general electorate was ensured through the deployment of two (2) police officers at each and every one of the Two Thousand Six Hundred and Six (2 606) polling stations locally. At constituency counting centres ten (10) Police Officers were deployed while five (5) were deployed at each polling district counting centre. No incidents of violence, intimidation, or fraudulent practices were reported.

ELECTION OBSERVERS AND MEDIA

The 2014 General Elections attracted interest from both domestic and international observers and media. Altogether, there were Four Hundred and Sixty Nine (469) domestic Observers and Four Hundred and Ninety Four (494) domestic Media personnel, while there were Two Hundred and Twenty Six (226) International Observers and thirty two (32) International Media personnel. A total of fifty six (56) diplomats from the local diplomatic missions also observed the elections.

These were accredited and each Mission deployed its personnel across the country as they deemed appropriate. Prior to the deployment, the Commission briefed each mission on the state of preparedness for the election and issued relevant packages.

The involvement of the election observers remains crucial in a democracy to measure the commitment of the Commission and its stakeholders in upholding the principles of democracy. It also reflects the Commission's commitment in maintaining credibility and transparency throughout the process.

Each observer mission was expected to submit to the Commission a copy of their report on the conduct of the elections with recommendations for the IEC to consider.

VOTING

As directed in the Writ of Elections and the Election Instruments, general polling day was on the 24th October 2014. Diaspora voting took place on the 18th October 2014 at the thirty-seven (37) external polling stations in accordance with Section 32 of the Electoral Act. Unlike in Botswana, the polling hours were restricted to the official business times in each country for external voting.

The Commission received the diaspora ballot papers on 21st October 2014 and distributed them to the constituencies' Returning Officers in time for their inclusion in those from the local poll.

In accordance with Section 61 of the Electoral Act, the Secretary to the Commission fixed the 18th October 2014 for advance poll by polling and police officers and anybody else who was eligible. The Secretary established fifty-seven (57) polling stations, one in each constituency, where the poll was conducted, between 08:00 and 18:00 hours. The advance poll included the election of members of the National Assembly and those of the Councils. The Local Government ballot papers were later distributed to the polling districts' Returning Officers for inclusion in the counting process.

On the 24th October 2014, most of the Two Thousand Six Hundred and Six (2 606) polling stations opened at 06:30 and closed at 19:00 hours as prescribed by the Electoral Act, except a few owing to some administrative lapses.

Some polling stations in the Okavango Delta had their polling hours varied to allow for the use of air transport to deliver and evacuate poll staff and materials on the same day within the flying time restrictions.

In accordance with Section 49 of the Electoral Act, polling agents appointed by the candidates were granted access to polling stations by Presiding Officers.

In December 2012, the Electoral Act was amended to provide for the arrangement of entries in alphabetical order of surnames in the roll. This amendment was intended to expedite the polling process as it would be quicker to locate one's entry in the roll than when names were arranged in order of serial numbers.

The helpdesk was also introduced to facilitate the polling process at the polling stations. Upon arrival of any voter, the helpdesk checked if the voter had reported to the correct polling station in which they were registered and advised accordingly, if not. Additionally, the helpdesk checked the validity and authenticity of the Omang and voter registration cards respectively and further indicated on the registration card, with a small white sticker, the page number of the voters roll on which the voter's entry appeared. This facilitated the polling officer marking the roll in the polling room to quickly find the voter's name. The helpdesk considerably reduced the turnaround time in the polling station.

In an attempt to ensure the secrecy of the ballot of the visually impaired voters, the IEC again used the voting template so that voters could vote on their own, but this time with instructions in Braille.

The Botswana Red Cross Society collaborated with IEC on a pilot project code named “Red Cross Cares” which provided humanitarian services to needy voters, in terms of health, at polling stations in Francistown, Gaborone, Mogoditshane, Molepolole, Ramotswa and Tonota constituencies during the general elections.

COUNTING AND RESULTS

After the close of poll and the Presiding Officers had completed the ballot paper accounts, the ballot boxes were taken to the fifty-seven (57) constituencies and four hundred and ninety (490) polling district counting centres.

Upon arrival of ballot boxes at the counting centres, the Returning Officers verified the ballot paper accounts before counting commenced in accordance with Section 71 of the Electoral Act.

A new initiative which involved the combination of sorting ballot papers according to candidates and counting was implemented at all the counting centres. As each ballot paper was allocated to the candidate voted for, a Tallying Officer marked a corresponding tally on the tally sheet provided for that candidate.

Figure 14: A portion of the tally sheet used to record votes accrued by a candidate. The tallies start from 1 and each sheet accommodates 1 000 votes.

The use of tally sheets was intended to cut the time taken before the results were released. The milestone was achieved in most counting centres.

Altogether, Six Hundred and Ninety Eight Thousand Four Hundred and Nine (698 409) voters cast their votes, out of the Eight Hundred and Twenty Five Thousand Five Hundred and Eighty Two (825 582) who had registered for the 2014 General Elections. This represents a voter turnout of 84.6%.

However against the eligible voting population, the turnout stands at 52%. The number of rejected ballots stood at Eight Thousand One Hundred and Sixty Seven (8 167), representing 1.17% of the turnout.

The results of the three (3) political parties and twenty-nine (29) independent candidates who contested the National Assembly elections are as follows:

Table 3

PARTY	SEATS WON	VOTES RECEIVED
Botswana Congress Party	3	140 998
Botswana Democratic Party	37	320 647
Umbrella for Democratic Change	17	207 113
Independent Candidates	0	21 484
TOTAL	57	690 242

For the Local Government elections four political parties and 254 independent candidates contested and their results are;

Table 4

PARTY	SEATS WON	VOTES RECEIVED
Botswana Congress Party	57	148 201
Botswana Democratic Party	310	312 550
Umbrella for Democratic Change	116	184 852
MELS Movement of Botswana	0	39
Independent Candidates	4	36 004
TOTAL	487	681 487

The total number of rejected ballot papers was Eight Thousand One Hundred and Sixty Seven (8 167) and this represented 1.17% of the votes cast. The reasons for rejection were mainly unmarked ballot papers, writings, multiple marks on more than one candidate, and mutilated ballot papers.

At the end of counting, three polling districts, namely: Goodhope in the Goodhope-Mabule Constituency, Moshupa West in the Moshupa-Manyana Constituency and Ngware in the Letlhakeng-Lephephe Constituency had the votes of their leading candidates tied. Accordingly, fresh elections have to be held.

Total Actual Expenditure for General Elections (as at 30 th November 2014)	40,818,549.00
Grand Total Expenditure	112,193,051.10

This electoral cycle saw the introduction of budgeting for elections through the development budget. The budget was broken into two projects being the National Voter Registration project and the 2014 General Elections project. This new arrangement proved to be effective for planning and monitoring purposes.

CHALLENGES

The delivery of a national election is such a mammoth project which cannot go without challenges. In preparation for the 2014 General Elections, the IEC experienced some challenges relating to the legal framework, logistics, human resource and stakeholder involvement which affected the smooth delivery of elections. However, the Commission will continue to address these challenges through revision of its strategies which comprise improved planning, capacity building and strengthened stakeholder collaboration, amongst others.

CONCLUSION

The 2014 elections, being Botswana's 11th General Elections since 1965 came following a number of activities which have a direct impact on the process and these include the Housing and Population Census of 2011, the Delimitation exercise of 2012 and the Establishment of polling districts and polling stations. These exercises informed the determination of the final electoral districts in which Botswana voted to establish a National Government and various Local Councils.

The Commission had intensified its interaction with the various electoral stakeholders to foster effective collaboration. This has resulted in improved participation by the electorate in the voting process, particularly the youth whose participation in small numbers has been worrisome.

The Commission would like to pass its gratitude to the entire nation of Botswana, but more particularly the politicians and electoral contestants for upholding the rule of law in the entire course of the election dispensation. The acceptance of the election outcome by the stakeholders and candidates reveals continued growth in political maturity and trust in the electoral process of Botswana.

To wrap up the 2014 General Elections, the Commission will conduct evaluation workshops for the Election Officials and Stakeholders to evaluate the elections and also consider election Observer Missions reports to come up with recommendations to map the way forward for the 2019 General Elections.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The Commission wishes to express its sincere appreciation to all its partners, stakeholders, groups and individuals who contributed and participated in various ways which led to the delivery of credible 2014 General Elections.

Special thanks are in order to the Department of Publishing and Printing Services, Attorney General's Chambers, Botswana Police Service, Directorate of Public Service Management, Department of Civil and National Registration, Central Transport Organisation, the Local Authorities and stakeholder Ministries and their departments for working tirelessly during the election period to carry out the demanding duties of elections with utmost professionalism and diligence.

Further, the Commission extends its appreciation to the entire media fraternity and all other electoral stakeholders for the positive support they gave during the electoral process.

The Commission is appreciative of the Office of the Secretary to the Commission for the dedication and commendable performance which yielded successful elections.

Lastly, the Commission is very grateful to the general electorate and the public for their active involvement and participation, display of patience and commitment, all geared towards promoting and sustaining democracy in Botswana.

Re a leboga betsho, le ka moso!
